SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. In March 1949 Travail et Culture, a branch of the Communist front organization Tourism et Travail, set up a cultural and artistic section in Casablanca, which was further divided into European and Moslem groups.
2. The Moslem section is headed by Mohamed Alami. The secretary of the group is a militant Communist named Bailly (fnu). Working under Alami, assigned to recruiting new members are: Habib Khallouk, Mohamed Melahfi, and Hamed Bennis (Benia), who have already been successful in finding many new adherents. The leaders of this organization meet at the offices of Tourism et Travail at 26 Boulevard de Lorraine every Saturday at 7 p.m. The members of the Moslem section hold meetings at the headquarters of the Confederation Generale du Travail (C.G.T.) on week days fixed in advance. The gatherings are presided over by Nissim Reboh, who is also secretary of Tourism et Travail.
3. Alami's fiancee is an Italian dancer called "Valeria" who came recently to Morocco from a theatrical engagement in New York. She is the sister-in-law of F. Javrat, the Communist director of Travail et Culture. She has succeeded in recruiting many Moslem girls whom she is instructing in the principals of Communism along with lessons in the dramatic arts.
